IMMIGRATION FORMS INCLUDED IN THIS APPLICATION GUIDE:

- Form I-693 Medical Examination of Aliens Seeking Adjustment of Status

Important:

- You may not need to submit all of the forms listed above. Only submit the application forms that apply to your case.
- You may not need to print this entire PDF file. You have the option of printing only the pages that you need (such as application forms). Refer to Appendix 8 for PDF printing instructions.
- Some application forms have an expiration date. Usually the USCIS issues a new version of each form before the expiration date, but occasionally the USCIS does not issue a new version before the form expires. On these rare cases, the immigration form continues to be valid until the new version is issued. However, not all expired application forms are valid and can be submitted. Expired forms can only be submitted when a new version has not yet been published.

DISCLAIMER

The Publisher of this information guide is not affiliated with the United States government.

The Publisher has made every attempt to provide the most current information available on United States immigration laws and application procedures. The user should be aware that while we try to keep the information timely and accurate, however there may be a delay between the passage of new laws and regulations and their inclusions in our immigration guides or on our website.

The information provided in this immigration package and in other documents, forms, website information, comments, e-mails, articles, newsletters, and other communications should not be considered legal advice for any individual case or situation. HOW TO PRINT THIS FILE

Adobe Acrobat is software that supports Portable Document Format (PDF) files. Adobe Reader (formerly called Adobe Acrobat Reader) is available as a free download from Adobe's website. Adobe Reader allows the viewing and printing of PDF files. It is recommended to have the latest version of Adobe Reader installed on your computer to properly view and print PDF files. You should have at least version 7, preferably version 8 installed on your computer to properly view and print PDF files.

Download Adobe Reader:

- Windows Users: www.adobe.com/products/acrobat/readstep2.html
- Mac Users: www.adobe.com/products/acrobat/readstep2_allversions.html

If you need assistance downloading or installing Adobe Reader visit www.adobe.com/support

How to Check for Updates:

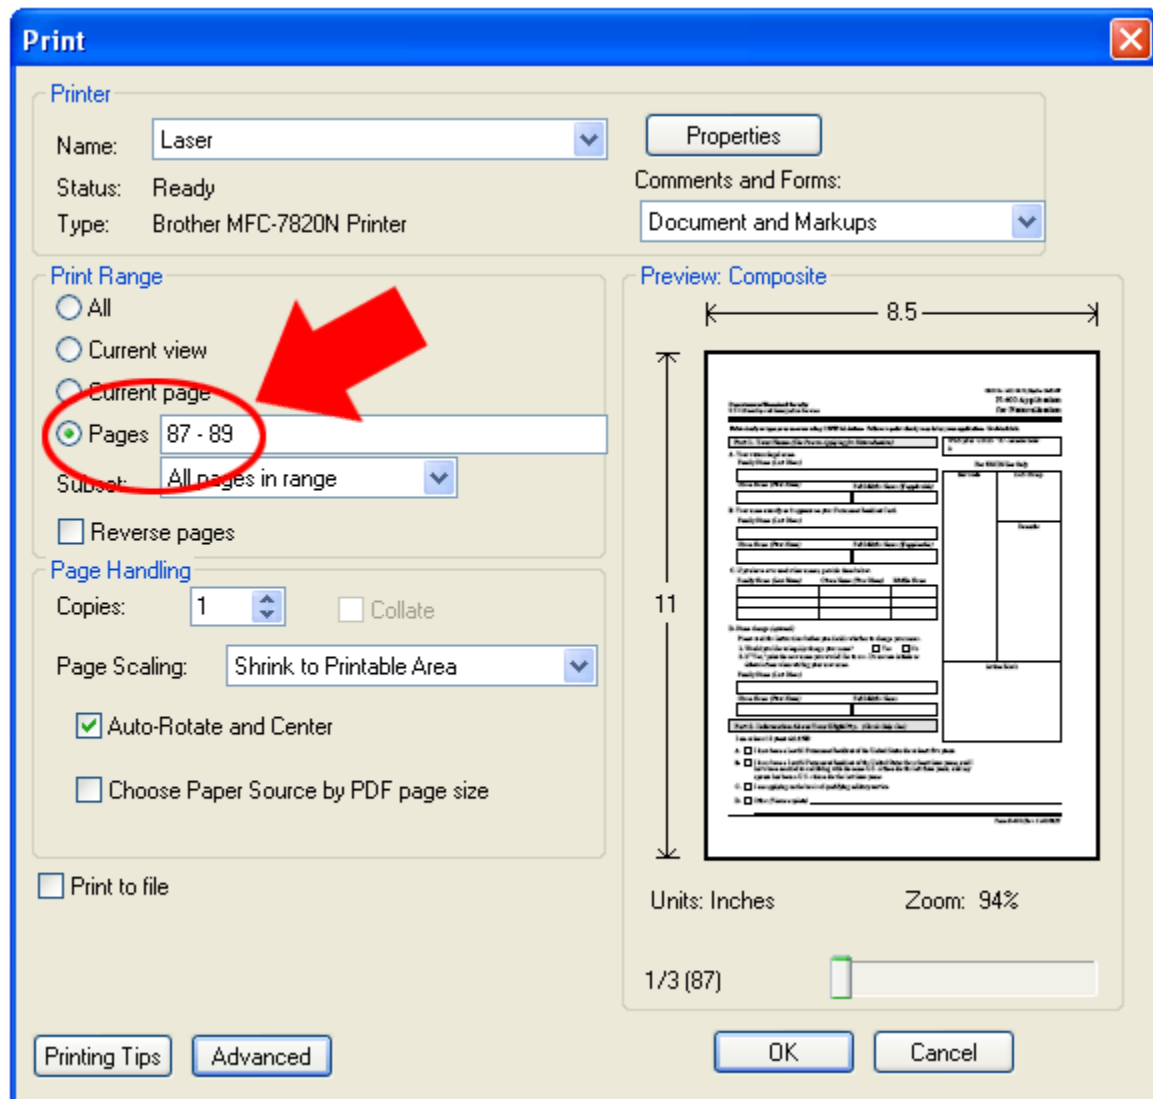

1. Open Adobe Acrobat Reader
2. Click on "Help" on the top menu
3. Select "Check for Updates..."
4. Follow the instructions and download any available updates

Printing Instructions:

Most users know how to print a Word document, web page or even a PDF file. You simply click on "File" then on "Print", or you may use the "Ctrl+P" keyboard shortcut. However, you may only need to print certain pages, such as application forms at the end of a long PDF file. You don't need to print the entire file if you only require the application forms for example. You may print only selected pages.

Follow the instructions bellow to print selected pages of a PDF file.

1. Click on "File" then "Print" (or use the "Ctrl+P" keyboard shortcut)
2. In the "Print Range" section select "Pages" then enter the pages you would like to print. Example: If you wish to print all pages between 87 and 89, enter 87-89.

Note: This is a screenshot from the free Adobe Reader 8. The latest version of Adobe Reader can be found at www.adobe.com/products/acrobat/readstep2.html

INFOPASS – Speak to an Immigration Officer

General Overview

InfoPass is an internet based system allowing individuals in the United States to make an appointment to speak with an Immigration Officer. The service is free and the time and date is easy to arrange. In cases of complex immigration issues, it may be better to ask an experienced immigration officer. By scheduling your appointment online you can save time in comparison to showing up in person and waiting in line. However, there may be times when you have more generic questions, but for which you do not require an appointment with an Immigration Officer. For routine questions, call NCSC at 1-800-375-5283.

How does InfoPass work?

Log on to: https://infopass.uscis.gov/info_en.php

- Step 1: Select the language you want to use (12 different languages)
- Step 2: Select “Make an Appointment.”

APPENDIX 6

Do I Need an Immigration Attorney?

You may wonder if an immigration attorney is necessary in order to successfully file your application. This appendix will cover some facts about immigration lawyers and why you should or should not file your application with the assistance of an attorney.

There are a number of do-it-yourself immigration packages where you do all the work including this immigration package. Nevertheless, due to the number of choices available there is also more room for mistakes. The catch is that you must stay well informed in order to be sure you are not breaking any rules or submitting an incomplete application.

With the help of the Internet, long distance client/attorney relationships are available. One good reason for going with a lawyer is to ensure that your case is in good hands and being processed correctly. However, a lawyer who is not an expert in your case can make matters worse and you may have been better off on your own.

A good immigration attorney knows what questions to ask in order to file your application correctly. However, it is advisable to learn the basics yourself. Staying informed will help you follow the application process carefully and possibly spot mistakes that can jeopardize your application. You cannot have full control over your own situation, but at least you know what is going on and what to expect in the future.

We recommend you study this application guide carefully. You are able to do everything yourself, but if you have questions or concerns we recommend you consult with the United States Consulate or Embassy in your country. If you are already in the United States, call the USCIS toll free number or visit your local USCIS office. Contact information can be found in a different appendix in this information guide.

APPENDIX 7

Glossary of Terms

"A" Number	The term used on the Alien Registration number. An "A" number is issued to all aliens applying for permanent residence.
Academic Training	This type of training is for students on a J-1 visa. The training is similar to students on an F-1 visa doing the Optional Professional Training (OPT). However, academic training is only for J-1 visa holders.
Acquired Citizenship	Citizenship bestowed at birth on children who are born overseas to U.S. citizen parent(s).
Act	Act means the "Immigration and Nationality Act" (or INA), as amended.
ACWIA	American Competitiveness and Workforce Improvement Act of 1998.
Adjudication	The term describing the USCIS process of reviewing and processing applications and petitions.
Admission	Admission in immigration terms is related to the lawful entry into the United States after inspection and authorization by an immigration officer. Note that admission does exclude a person who is paroled or permitted to land temporarily.
Adjustment of Immigrant Status	A process that permits a number of foreigners who are already in the United States to apply for immigrant status. Foreigners who enter the United States as nonimmigrants, refugees, or parolees might have their status altered to that of legal permanent resident if they are qualified to obtain an immigrant visa and one is available right away. If the status is changed successfully, the alien is considered an immigrant as of the date of the adjustment regardless if the alien may have been in the United States for a long period of time.
Admission Number	The particular number is found on your I-94 card, which will change every time you enter the United States. Remember to give this card back once you leave the U.S. so there is a record of your U.S. entry and departure.
Advance parole	The term used for legal permission to leave the United States and re-enter during the adjustment of the individuals status procedures.
Affidavit of Support	The affidavit of support is a sworn document provided by an individual who will provide financial support to an alien that seeks to adjust existing status or enter the United States. In some cases, the Affidavit of Support is required and needs to be included as a part of the petition process. There are two Affidavits of Support: Form I-864 and Form I-134. The law and regulations must be consulted to learn the appropriate use and requirements for each.
Aggravated Felon	The description of an individual who has been convicted of any of numerous crimes set forth in INA Section 101(a)(43), 8 USC Section 1101. Aggravated felon status creates numerous substantive and procedural disabilities with respect to asylum, admissibility, removal, judicial review, etc., as set forth in INA Sections 298, 212, 237 - 242, 8 USC Sections 1158, 1182.
Agricultural Worker	An agricultural worker is a foreign worker who is coming to the United States to carry out agricultural work or services, as defined by the Secretary of Labor, for a temporary period of time as a nonimmigrant.
AILA	Abbreviation for American Immigration Lawyers Association.
Alien	Any person who is not a citizen or national of the United States of America; foreigner.
Aliens Previously Removed	A term used to describe the inadmissibility for individuals previously removed from anywhere between 5 to 20 years, depending upon the circumstances of each case. INA Section 212(a)(9)(A), 8 USC Section 1182.

Amerasian Act	Public Law 97-359 (Act of 10/22/82) that permits certain Amerasian children to immigrate to the United States. An alien must have been born in Cambodia, Korea, Laos, Thailand, or Vietnam after December 31, 1950, and before October 22, 1982, and have been fathered by a U.S. citizen for him/her to meet the requirements for benefits under this law.
Amerasian (Vietnam)	Immigrant visas are granted to Amerasians under Public Law 100-202 (Act of 12/22/87). This law grants aliens who are born in Vietnam after January 1, 1962, and before January 1, 1976 admission to the United States provided he/she was fathered by a U.S. citizen. The alien may be accompanied by spouses, children, and parents or guardians.
Applicant	The individual applying for visa, change of status or citizenship.
Application for	Immigrant Visa and Alien Registration The procedures for applying for immigrant status through a U.S. consulate.
Application Support Centers	USCIS applications for Naturalization or to Register Permanent Residence or Adjust Status necessitate the USCIS to carry out a FBI fingerprint background check on the applicant. Most applicants that require a background check have to be present for one at a specific Application Support Center (ASC) or Designated Law Enforcement Agency (DLEA) for fingerprinting purposes.
Apprehension	Apprehension refers to arresting a removable foreigner by U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE).
ASC	Abbreviation for INS/USCIS Application Support Center
Asylee	A foreigner in the United States or at a port-of-entry who is established to be incapable or reluctant to go back to his or her country of nationality, or to ask for the protection from that country because of persecution or a well-substantiated fear of persecution. The reasons for fear of persecution have to be the foreigner's race, religion, nationality, membership in a unique social group, or political views. The country of nationality is considered to be the country in which the foreigner most recently lived for those without any nationality. Asylees are entitled to adjust to the legal permanent resident category after one year of continuous presence in the United States. This category is limited to 10,000 adjustments per fiscal year.
BCIS	BCIS stands for the Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services.

Petition	A generic word used to describe the forms used by the USCIS to determine eligibility for different visa categories.
Port-of-entry	Any location in the United States or its territories where foreigners and U.S. citizens alike can enter the United States such as airports and border crossings.
Practical Training	A work program designed to let foreign students work in the United States while attaining their university degree or after attaining their degree.
Pre-Inspection	The process of inspecting airport passengers before departing from foreign countries to the United States. However, the United States immigration does not require inspection upon arrival.
Preference System (Immigration Act of 1990)	The nine classes under which the family-sponsored and employment-based immigrant preference visas are granted as of 1992.
Principal Alien	It is the foreigner who submits an application for immigrant status and from whom another foreigner may get lawful status under immigration law or regulations such as spouses and children. The principal is the primary person applying as opposed to dependent. Example; TN is a principal classification, and TD is the dependent classification.
Priority Date	This term refers to the date a petition is filed during a USCIS Immigrant visa application process. If the foreigner relative has a priority date on or before the date listed in the visa bulletin, then he or she is currently eligible for a visa.
Quota system	The system used to limit the number of visas available to each country for particular visa classifications.
Re-Entry Permit	A declaration of an individual's intention to maintain U.S. permanent residence during prolonged absence from the United States. Its official name is "Form I-131, Application for Travel Document." - Note that the alien must be physically present in the United States to file an application for a re-entry permit.

Refugee	A refugee is anybody who is incapable or reluctant to go back to his/her country of nationality while they are in another country because he/she will be persecuted or afraid of being persecuted. The reasons for persecution or fear of persecution have to be the foreigner's race, religion, nationality, membership in a unique social group, or political views. The country of nationality is considered to be the country in which the foreigner most recently lived for those without nationality. Refugees are entitled to adjust to the legal permanent resident category after one year of continuous presence in the United States.
Refugee Approvals	The number of refugees that are permitted to be admitted into the United States during a fiscal year.
Refugee Arrivals	The number of refugees that actually entered the United States during a fiscal year.
Refugee Authorized Admissions	The ceiling number of refugees allowable to come into the United States during a fiscal year which is decided by the President of the United States after consulting with Congress.
Refugee-Parolee	Refugee- parolees are those individuals who eligible for provisional admittance to the United States between February 1970 and April 1980, but could not be accepted because of insufficient numbers of seventh preference visas. As a consequence, these individuals entered the United States as parolees.
Regional Offices	There are three USCIS Regional Offices that supervise the work of USCIS Districts and Border Patrol Sectors. They are located in Burlington, VT, for the Eastern Region, Dallas, TX, for the Central Region, and Laguna Niguel, CA, for the Western Region.
Registry Date	Aliens who have continuously resided in the United States since January 1, 1972, are of good moral character, and are not inadmissible, are eligible to adjust to legal permanent resident status under the registry provision. Before the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 amended the date, aliens had to have been in the country continuously since June 30, 1948 to qualify.
Regulation	A rule which is established under the provisions of INA 104(a). The rule is further duly published in the Federal Register.
Removal	The process of removing foreigners from the United States which justified because they are found to be either inadmissible or deportable.
Request for Evidence (RFE)	A letter that the USCIS uses to request additional information on a pending case.
Resident Alien	Any person who is not a citizen of the United States and who lives in the U.S. under lawfully recognized and legally recorded permanent residence as an immigrant. It is also called Permanent Resident Alien, Resident Alien Permit Holder, and Green Card Holder.
Service Centers	There are four service offices in the United States that are responsible for filing, data entry, and arbitration of some applications for immigration services and benefits. Service Centers are not staffed to receive walk-in applications or questions so all applications have to be mailed.
SEVIS	SEVIS stands for "The Student Exchange Visitor Information System". This particular system is used by the federal government to monitor student visas in the United States.
Special Agricultural Workers (SAW)	Foreigners who worked in perishable agricultural commodities for a specified period of time and were allowed to enter the United States for short-term and then became permanent residents under a provision of the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986.
Special Immigrants	Some classes of immigrants who were excepted from numerical restrictions before fiscal year 1992 and subject to control under the employment-based fourth preference beginning in 1992 such as persons who lost citizenship by marriage, persons who lost citizenship by serving in foreign armed forces and so forth.
Sponsored Immigrant	An immigrant on whose behalf a sponsor has executed an affidavit of support. The affidavit of support includes any spouse or child who will accompany or follow-to-join the beneficiary of an immigrant visa petition filed by a sponsor.

Stowaway	A foreigner who comes secretly to the United States by hiding in an airplane or ship without being officially authorized to enter. Such a person will be denied admission and will be returned to the point of embarkation by the transporter.
Subject to the Numerical Limit	The classes of legal immigrants subject to numerical limitations under the provisions of the flexible numerical limit of 675,000 set by the Immigration Act of 1990. The largest classes are the family-sponsored preferences, employment-based preferences, and diversity immigrants.
Suspension of Deportation	A remedy in deportation proceedings which must be initiated before removal proceedings began under the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996 [IIRAIRA] on April 1, 1997. It involves certain individuals who have been in the U.S. for 7 or 10 years and who met other criteria as set forth in former INA Section 244(a).
Temporary Protected Status (TPS)	The TPS sets up a legislative foundation for permitting a group of people provisional refuge in the United States. The Attorney General may select nationals of a foreign country to be entitled for TPS with a finding that conditions in that country present a risk to personal safety because of continuing armed wars or a natural catastrophe. TPS is allowed for periods of 6 to 18 months in the beginning and may be extended depending on the situation. Removal procedures are generally suspended against foreigners while they are in Temporary Protected Status.
Temporary Worker	Nonimmigrant temporary worker classes of admission, who come to the United States to work temporarily.
Treaty Trader or Investor	A nonimmigrant foreigner coming to the United States, under the provisions of a treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and the foreign state of such alien, to perform extensive trading or to manage the business in which he/she has invested a considerable sum of money in addition to the spouse and unmarried minor children.
United States-Canada Free-Trade Agreement	The agreement that governs the mutual trading relationship between the United States and Canada and establishes a similar relationship with Mexico.
USCIS	USCIS is abbreviated for United States Citizenship and Immigration Services. It is a bureau created under the Department of Homeland Security. The former official name was INS, but INS was replaced by USCIS on 3/1/2003.
Visa	A United States visa grants the holder the right to apply for entry to the United States, but does not grant the visa holder the right to enter the United States. Entry can be refused at the port-of-entry. The Department of State (DOS) is in charge of visa administration at U.S. Embassies and Consulates outside of the U.S. The Department of Homeland Security (DHS), Bureau of Customs and Border Protection (BCBP) immigration inspectors decide admittance, duration of stay and conditions in the U.S. at a port-of-entry. DHS immigration inspectors will record the terms of your admission on your I-94 or I-94W and in your passport upon approval of entry.
Visa Waiver Program	The program permits citizens of certain countries to enter the U.S. for business or pleasure up to 90 days. The following countries are currently in the visa waiver program: Andorra, Austria, Australia, Belgium, Brunei, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Monaco, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Portugal, San Marino, Singapore, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom.
VSC	Vermont Service Center.

Adobe Acrobat Help

Adobe Acrobat is software that supports Portable Document Format (PDF) files. Adobe Reader (formerly called Adobe Acrobat Reader) is available as a free download from Adobe's website. Adobe Reader allows the viewing and printing of PDF files. It is recommended to have the latest version of Adobe Reader installed on your computer to properly view and print PDF files. You should have at least version 7, preferably version 8 installed on your computer to properly view and print PDF files.

Download Adobe Reader:

- Windows Users: <http://get.adobe.com/reader>
- Mac Users: <http://get.adobe.com/reader/otherversions>

If you need assistance downloading or installing Adobe Reader visit www.adobe.com/support

How to Check for Updates:

1. Open Adobe Acrobat Reader
2. Click on "Help" on the top menu
3. Select "Check for Updates..."
4. Follow the instructions and download any available updates

Fillable PDF Forms:

"Fillable" means that you can fill in blank fields in the PDF file, then print it. This is feature only available on the latest versions of Adobe Reader. This is a convenient way to complete application forms. Not all application forms are fillable. However, if the application forms in the PDF file are fillable, the "Highlight Fields" option will be displayed on Adobe Reader. If you select this option, all fillable fields will be highlighted in blue.

Example of PDF files with fillable fields:

Adobe Reader Version 8

Printing Instructions:

Most users know how to print a Word document, web page or even a PDF file. You simply click on “File” then on “Print”, or you may use the “Ctrl+P” keyboard shortcut. However, you may only need to print certain pages, such as application forms at the end of a long PDF file. You don’t need to print the entire file if you only require the application forms for example. You may print only selected pages.

Follow the instructions below to print selected pages of a PDF file.

1. Click on “File” then “Print” (or use the “Ctrl+P” keyboard shortcut)
2. In the “Print Range” section select “Pages” then enter the pages you would like to print.
Example: If you wish to print all pages between 87 and 89, enter 87-89.
